About Rode Bath

A bath doesn't only clean your body – it also purifies your mind... That's why almost every religion and civilization from the Romans to the Hindus, incorporate the process of washing or cleaning yourself – physically and mentally.

At Rode Bath, we wish to take this notion of water and purification even further.

We want to wash away everything mediocre, everything plain and boring from your bathroom. We want to get rid of grey, anonymous, conventional, average and indifferent interior design.

We want interior design that stands out. Interior design with an edge. Interior design that is not afraid to enter the spotlight.

Your bathroom will never be the same.

The power of innovation and uncompromising design

Why do things look the way they look? Take a toilet brush for instance – why does a toilet brush look the way a toilet brush looks?

Well, the classical design of a toilet brush is of course based on the technology available at the time it was invented.

Today, new technology has been developed, but the ordinary design of a toilet brush is still the same.

At Rode Bath, we simply ask, “why is that?”

Using the most advanced technology and uncompromising design, we, at Rode Bath, are neither afraid to question the nature, shape, form nor function of interior design.

The result is simply the most innovative toilet cleaner your bathroom has ever seen.

Take the head of this unique toilet cleaner; it’s made of silicone. Why silicone, you say: well, first of all, bacteria can’t grow on silicone, making it ideal to be used in toilet cleaning – the Rode Bath Toilet Cleaner Hygienic simply stays clean. Secondly, silicone is extremely durable and can be shaped to reach previously inaccessible areas of your toilet.

When we combine the innovative silicone head with the stainless steel and marble composite, you have a unique toilet cleaner, which, like the rest of the Rode Bath collection, stands out both in regards to design and quality.

That's why we manufacture our products from materials of the highest grade and design them for attention. Have a look at our different products here, and ask yourself if you would like to stand still or stand out.
