Clean out Ordinary

Nothing good comes out of mediocrity. No one cares for normal. No one cares for the middle ground. So, nothing we do is average, and our entire collection is created from this exact conviction. That's why we manufacture our products from materials of the highest grade and design them for attention. Have a look at our different products here, and ask yourself if you would like to stand still or stand out.

The power of innovation and uncompromising design

Why do things look the way they look? Take a toilet brush for instance – why does a toilet brush look the way a toilet brush looks?

Well, the classical design of a toilet brush is of course based on the technology available at the time it was invented.

Today, new technology has been developed, but the ordinary design of a toilet brush is still the same.

At Rode Bath, we simply ask, “why is that?”

Using the most advanced technology and uncompromising design, we, at Rode Bath, are neither afraid to question the nature, shape, form nor function of interior design.

The result is simply the most innovative toilet cleaner your bathroom has ever seen.

Take the head of this unique toilet cleaner; it's made of silicone. Why silicone, you say: well, first of all, bacteria can't grow on silicone, making it ideal to be used in toilet cleaning – the Rode Bath Toilet Cleaner Hygienic simply stays clean.

Secondly, silicone is extremely durable and can be shaped to reach previously inaccessible areas of your toilet.

When we combine the innovative silicone head with the stainless steel, you have a unique toilet cleaner, which, like the rest of the Rode Bath collection, stands out both in regards to design and quality.
